Do you agree to pay more for out-of-network care and give up important legal protections?

This doctor or provider is not in your health plan's network. This means the doctor or provider does not have a contract with your plan.

If the service or supply is medically needed:

- State law protects patients with some types of health plans from higher bills from out-of-network providers. If you sign this form, you lose the protection of the law.
- If you sign this form, you agree to pay up to the full billed charges for these services and supplies.
- Your health plan might not count the extra amount you pay toward your out-of-pocket limit.
- Before you sign this form, you can ask your health plan to find an in-network provider. If there isn't one, your health plan might work out an agreement with this provider or another provider.
- If you have a plan that is an HMO (health maintenance organization) or EPO (exclusive provider benefit plan), it may not pay anything for out-of-network services and supplies.
- You should not sign this form if you believe your case is an emergency.
- You should not sign this form if you did not have a choice of providers. For example, if a doctor was assigned to you.
