

Biography

Simon J. Forster, D.C., DABCO, Cert MDT

Dr. Simon J. Forster originally moved to the United States to pursue advanced training in chiropractic orthopedics after receiving his chiropractic education from the Anglo-European College in England. He has served for several years as an examination commissioner for both the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the American Board of Chiropractic Orthopedists. He has been a Designated Doctor since 1993, assisting with the State's transition from the 3rd to 4th Edition of the Guides.

He worked for several years with the old TWCC's Medical Advisory Committee, and since continued working with the DWC as a subject matter expert tasked with educational curriculum and examination development for the Designated Doctor training program. He has served on the TDI's Medical Quality Review Panel as a member for over ten years.

Dr. Forster is in full-time practice in Austin, Texas and frequently lectures to multidisciplinary audiences nationwide, teaching programs on Functional Capacity Evaluation and Impairment Rating, Case Management/Clinical Outcomes Assessment and Evidence-Based Diagnostic and Treatment Concepts.
