

APPEAL NO. 040217
FILED MARCH 11, 2004

This appeal arises pursuant to the Texas Workers' Compensation Act, TEX. LAB. CODE ANN. § 401.001 et seq. (1989 Act). A contested case hearing was held on January 12, 2004. With respect to the issue before her, the hearing officer determined that the appellant's (claimant) compensable injury of _____, does not extend to include bilateral reflex sympathetic dystrophy (RSD) and/or an injury to the cervical spine, left hand, both arms, both elbows, and both shoulders. In her appeal, the claimant argues that the hearing officer's extent-of-injury determination is against the great weight and preponderance of the evidence. In its response, the respondent (carrier) urges affirmance.

DECISION

Affirmed.

The hearing officer did not err in determining that the claimant's compensable injury of _____, does not extend to include bilateral RSD and/or an injury to the cervical spine, left hand, both arms, both elbows, and both shoulders. The claimant had the burden of proof on that issue and it presented a question of fact for the hearing officer. There was conflicting evidence presented on the disputed issue. The 1989 Act makes the hearing officer the sole judge of the weight and credibility to be given to the evidence. Section 410.165(a). As such, the hearing officer was required to resolve the conflicts and inconsistencies in the evidence and to determine what facts the evidence established. In this instance, the hearing officer simply was not persuaded that the claimant sustained her burden of proof on the extent-of-injury issue. The hearing officer was acting within her province as the fact finder in so finding. Nothing in our review of the record reveals that the challenged determination is so contrary to the overwhelming weight of the evidence as to be clearly wrong or unjust. Thus, no sound basis exists for us to disturb the hearing officer's extent-of-injury determination on appeal. Cain v. Bain, 709 S.W.2d 175 (Tex. 1986).

The hearing officer's decision and order are affirmed.
