REQUESTOR'S POSITION SUMMARY

Requestor's Position Summary: "According to the United States Code Title 49, 41713, the Airline Deregulation Act (ADA) of 1978 states that individual states cannot regulate the prices, routes or services of the air ambulance industry, therefore, it is inappropriate that air ambulance services be subject to state workers' compensation allowance and should be reimbursed at 100% of billed charges."

Requestor's Position Summary dated June 6, 2014: "if the Division continues to apply the Texas statute in contravention of the ADA, both statute and rules require application of the 'fair and reasonable' standard. . . . The Airline Deregulation Act ("ADA") imposes a single federal regulatory scheme on air carriers that precludes state regulation of rates and certain other issues"

Requestor's Position Summary dated July 8, 2014: "The air ambulance providers have submitted documentation demonstrating that their market-driven charges represent the cost of doing business, plus a very modest profit margin . . . The Statute and Rules Do Not Allow for Default-to-Medicare Reimbursement"

Amount in Dispute: $19,471.65

RESPONDENT'S POSITION SUMMARY

Respondent's Position Summary: "This letter acknowledges receipt of your Liberty Health Care Network (HCN) complaint . . . Your issue will be forwarded to the appropriate department for further handling."

Response Submitted by: Liberty Mutual Insurance

FINDINGS AND DECISION

This medical fee dispute is decided pursuant to Texas Labor Code §413.031 and applicable rules of the Texas Department of Insurance, Division of Workers' Compensation.

Background

1. Texas Insurance Code §1305.006 establishes insurance carrier liability for certain out-of-network health care.
2. Texas Insurance Code §1305.004 defines terms related to workers' compensation health care networks.
3. Texas Insurance Code §1305.153 sets out general provisions related to provider reimbursement.
4. 28 Texas Administrative Code §133.307 sets out the procedures for resolving medical fee disputes.
5. 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1 sets out general provisions regarding medical reimbursement.
6. Texas Labor Code §413.011 sets out general provisions regarding reimbursement policies and guidelines.
7. Texas Labor Code §413.031 sets out provisions regarding medical dispute resolution.
8. The insurance carrier reduced payment for the disputed services with the following claim adjustment codes:
 - Z710 – THE CHARGE FOR THIS PROCEDURE EXCEEDS THE FEE SCHEDULE ALLOWANCE. (Z710)
 - B13 – PREVIOUSLY PAID. PAYMENT FOR THIS CLAIM/SERVICE MAY HAVE BEEN PROVIDED IN A PREVIOUS PAYMENT.
 - 193 – ORIGINAL PAYMENT DECISION IS BEING MAINTAINED. UPON REVIEW, IT WAS DETERMINED THAT THIS CLAIM WAS PROCESSED PROPERLY.
 - W3 – ADDITIONAL PAYMENT MADE ON APPEAL/RECONSIDERATION.

Issues

1. Are the services eligible for medical fee dispute resolution?
2. Does the Federal Aviation Act preempt the authority of the Texas Labor Code to regulate air ambulance fees?
3. Is there an applicable fee schedule for the services in dispute?
4. What is the applicable rule for determining reimbursement of the disputed services?
5. Has the requestor justified that the payment amount sought is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement?
6. Has the respondent justified that the payment made is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement?
7. Is additional reimbursement due?

Findings

1. The requestor is an air ambulance company that provided transportation services to an injured employee enrolled in a workers' compensation health care network subject to the provisions of Texas Insurance Code chapter 1305. The requestor is not a participating provider in the health care network. The provider has requested medical fee dispute resolution pursuant to 28 Texas Administrative Code §133.307.

The Division's MFDR section has authority to review fee disputes in accordance with Insurance Code §1305.153(c), which states that "Out-of-network providers who provide care as described by Section 1305.006 shall be reimbursed as provided by the Texas Workers' Compensation Act and applicable rules of the commissioner of workers' compensation."

Insurance Code §1305.006 requires that "An insurance carrier that establishes or contracts with a network is liable for the following out-of-network health care that is provided to an injured employee: (1) emergency care."

Insurance Code §1305.004(a)(13) defines a medical emergency as "the sudden onset of a medical condition manifested by acute symptoms of sufficient severity, including severe pain, that the absence of immediate medical attention could reasonably be expected to result in: (A) placing the patient's health or bodily functions in serious jeopardy; or (B) serious dysfunction of any body organ or part."

Review of the submitted information finds documentation to support a medical emergency. Consequently, the disputed services were provided as described in §1305.006, and per §1305.153(c) shall be reimbursed as provided by the Texas Workers' Compensation Act and applicable rules of the commissioner of workers' compensation. Accordingly, the requestor is entitled to review of the disputed services pursuant to Texas Labor Code §413.031 and applicable Division rules.

2. The requestor maintains that the Federal Aviation Act, as amended by the Airline Deregulation Act of 1978, 49 U.S.C. §41713, preempts the authority of the Texas Labor Code to apply the Division's medical fee guidelines to air ambulance services. This threshold legal issue was considered by the State Office of Administrative Hearings (SOAH) in PHI Air Medical v. Texas Mutual Insurance Company, et al., Docket number 454-12-7770.M4, which held that "the Airline Deregulation Act does not preempt state worker's compensation rules and guidelines that establish the reimbursement allowed for the air ambulance services . . . rendered to injured workers (claimants)." In particular, SOAH found that:

the McCarran-Ferguson Act explicitly reserves the regulation of insurance to the states and provides that any federal law that infringes upon that regulation is preempted by the state insurance laws, unless the federal law specifically relates to the business of insurance. In this case, there is little doubt that the worker's compensation system adopted in Texas is directly related to the business of insurance . . .

The Division agrees. The Division concludes that its jurisdiction to consider the medical fee issues in this dispute is not preempted by the Federal Aviation Act, or the Airline Deregulation Act of 1978, based upon SOAH's threshold issue discussion and the information provided by the parties in this medical fee dispute. The disputed services will therefore be decided pursuant to Texas Labor Code §413.031 and applicable rules of the Texas Department of Insurance, Division of Workers' Compensation.

3. The insurance carrier reduced payment for the disputed services with payment adjustment explanation code Z710 – "THE CHARGE FOR THIS PROCEDURE EXCEEDS THE FEE SCHEDULE ALLOWANCE." The services in dispute are air ambulance transportation services billed under codes A0431 and A0436. No documentation was found to support a specific Texas fee schedule applicable to the disputed services. No documentation was presented to support a contractual fee schedule or negotiated contract between the parties to this dispute. The respondent's payment reduction reason is not supported.
4. The services in dispute are air ambulance transportation services for which the Division has not established a medical fee guideline. No documentation was found to support a negotiated contract or that the services were provided through a workers' compensation health care network. Payment is therefore subject to the general medical reimbursement provisions of 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1(e), which requires that in the absence of an applicable fee guideline or a negotiated contract, medical reimbursement for health care not provided through a workers' compensation health care network shall be made in accordance with a fair and reasonable reimbursement amount as specified in §134.1(f).
5. In the following analysis, the positions of both parties and the evidence presented to support each party's proposed reimbursement are examined in order to establish which party presents the best evidence of a payment that will achieve a fair and reasonable reimbursement for the services in dispute. The requestor has the burden of proof. The standard of proof required is by a preponderance of the evidence.

28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1(f) requires that

Fair and reasonable reimbursement shall:

- (1) be consistent with the criteria of Labor Code §413.011;
- (2) ensure that similar procedures provided in similar circumstances receive similar reimbursement; and
- (3) be based on nationally recognized published studies, published Division medical dispute decisions, and/or values assigned for services involving similar work and resource commitments, if available.

The Texas Supreme Court has summarized the statutory standards and criteria applicable to "fair and reasonable" fee determinations as requiring "methodologies that determine fair and reasonable medical fees, ensure quality medical care to injured workers, and achieve effective cost control." Texas Workers' Compensation Commission v. Patient Advocates of Texas, 136 South Western Reporter Third 656 (Texas 2004).

Additionally, the Third Court of Appeals has held, in All Saints Health System v. Texas Workers' Compensation Commission, 125 South Western Reporter Third 104 (Texas Appeals – Austin 2003, petition for review denied), that "each . . . reimbursement should be evaluated according to [Texas Labor Code] section 413.011(d)'s definition of 'fair and reasonable' fee guidelines as implemented by Rule 134.1 for case-by-case determinations."

Texas Labor Code §413.011(d) requires that:

Fee guidelines must be fair and reasonable and designed to ensure the quality of medical care and to achieve effective medical cost control. The guidelines may not provide for payment of a fee in excess of the fee charged for similar treatment of an injured individual of an equivalent standard of living and paid by that individual or by someone acting on that individual's behalf. The commissioner shall consider the increased security of payment afforded by this subtitle in establishing the fee guidelines.

28 Texas Administrative Code §133.307(c)(2)(O), requires the requestor to provide "documentation that discusses, demonstrates, and justifies that the payment amount being sought is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement in accordance with §134.1 . . . when the dispute involves health care for which the division has not established a maximum allowable reimbursement (MAR) or reimbursement rate, as applicable."

Review of the submitted documentation finds:

- The requestor's original position statement asserts: "it is inappropriate that air ambulance services be subject to state workers' compensation allowance and should be reimbursed at 100% of billed charges."
- The Division has previously found, as stated in the adoption preamble to the former Acute Care Inpatient Hospital Fee Guideline, that "hospital charges are not a valid indicator of a hospital's costs of providing services nor of what is being paid by other payors" (22 Texas Register 6271). The Division further considered alternative methods of reimbursement that use hospital charges as their basis; such methods were rejected because they "allow the hospitals to affect their reimbursement by inflating their charges" (22 Texas Register 6268-6269). While an air ambulance company is not a hospital, the above principle is of similar concern in the present dispute. A health care provider's usual and customary charges are not evidence of a fair and reasonable rate or of what insurance companies are paying for the same or similar services. Payment of "100% of billed charges" is not acceptable when it leaves the ultimate reimbursement in the control of the health care provider—which would ignore the objective of effective cost control and the statutory standard not to pay more than for similar treatment of an injured individual of an equivalent standard of living. Therefore, the use of a health care provider's "usual and customary" charges cannot be favorably considered unless other data or documentation is presented to support that the payment amount being sought is a fair and reasonable reimbursement for the services in dispute.
- In the present dispute, however, the requestor has submitted additional documentation and data to support that the payment amount sought is a fair and reasonable reimbursement for the services in this dispute.
- The requestor asserts that the amount requested is designed to ensure the quality of medical care:

The Division has long construed this inquiry as one of patient access . . . To ensure patient access to emergency helicopter service, it is essential that air ambulance providers are reimbursed a sufficient amount to cover the costs of providing the service to patients. This amount is reflected in their usual and customary market rates.

- In support of the quality of medical care, the requestor submitted documentation of a study as described in an article of the Journal of the American Medical Association, volume 249, number 22 (1983), "The Impact of a Rotorcraft Aeromedical Emergency Care Service on Trauma Mortality," by William G. Baxt, and Peggy Moody, which reported a "52% reduction in predicted mortality of the aeromedical group" in reviewing populations of trauma patients transported to a trauma center by standard land prehospital care services as compared to the same trauma center by a rotorcraft aeromedical service.
- Additionally the requestor submitted documentation of a study as described in an article of the Journal of the American Medical Association, volume 307, number 15 (2012), "Association Between Helicopter vs. Ground Emergency Medical Services and Survival for Adults With Major Trauma," by Samuel M. Galvagno, Jr., DO, PhD; et al., which the requestor asserts "indicate that helicopter EMS transport is independently associated with improved odds of survival for seriously injured adults."
- The requestor's July 8th position statement asserts that the amount requested achieves medical cost control: "Providers cannot and do not arbitrarily raise their rates to achieve higher profit margins, as evidenced by CMS data reflecting minimal variation in provider's billed charges in both statewide and national figures."

- The requestor further states:

Providers' Financial Data and the CMS Study Prove that the Billed Charges are Constrained by Market Forces . . . the air ambulance charge model achieves effective cost control because it does not reflect the type of high historical profit margins that would indicate a provider's ability to raise rates to an unfair or unsustainable level. . . . The air ambulance provider's market-driven price inflexibility is further strengthened by the national study published by CMS . . . CMS published provider charge data from every Texas provider and reported the average billed charges, along with the 25th percentile, 75th percentile, maximum submitted charge amounts and minimum submitted charges. Not only are the air ambulance charges similar across the Texas, they are also relatively consistent across the country. While variations volume and payor mix in different parts of the state and country necessitate slight disparities in charges, the lack of wide fluctuations in pricing prove that providers cannot and do not deviate from their usual and customary, market-driven charges.

- Review of the health care provider's billed charges finds that the submitted charges for the services in this dispute compare favorably on a base rate basis and per mile basis with the submitted Texas and national aggregate charge range data compiled by CMS as found in the requestor's Exhibit 11.
- The requestor asserts that the amount requested does not provide for payment of a fee in excess of the fee charged for similar treatment of an injured individual of an equivalent standard of living, stating: "these providers apply usual and customary charges to all patients regardless of payor-type or standard of living, and expect payment in full except where prohibited by federal law."

- The requestor further asserts:

Unlike hospitals, air ambulance providers (1) rarely, if ever, enter into discounted contracts with private insurance companies; (2) have not artificially inflated their billed charges to enable them to offer discounts to the insurance companies while maintaining the ability to recover their costs; and (3) routinely seek to balance bill the patient who is left with the remainder of the usual and customary charges that are not paid in full by a third-party payor.

- The requestor asserts that the amount requested accounts for the increased security of Workers' Compensation payment, stating: "In the air ambulance context, limiting collections to any artificially-reduced rate is unreasonable because these providers consistently rely on collecting 100 percent of their billed charges form all patients except where prohibited by federal law."
- The requestor asserts that the amount requested ensures that similar procedures provided in similar circumstances receive similar reimbursement:

air ambulance providers charge the same rates for all patients, regardless of payor-type or economic status. . . . the Division clearly noted when it reasoned, 'the objectives of the 1996 MFG were to move Texas MFG reimbursements toward a median position in comparison with other states, away from a charge-based structure [as applied by hospitals], and more toward a market-based system.' An air ambulance provider's usual and customary market rates are the only charges that achieve this result.

- The requestor asserts that the amount requested is based on nationally recognized published studies, published Division medical dispute decisions, and/or values assigned for services involving similar work and resource commitments, presenting documentation of the aggregated national and statewide charge data by HCPCS code, as compiled by CMS, to support that the requestor's billed charges are consistent with national averages.
- The requestor has explained and supported that the requested reimbursement methodology would satisfy the requirements of 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1.

The request for additional reimbursement is supported. The Division has reviewed all the documentation presented by the requestor and respondent(s) in this dispute. Although some evidence may not have been discussed, all of it was considered. Upon thorough review of the submitted information, the Division concludes that the requestor has discussed, demonstrated, and justified, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the payment amount sought is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement for the services in dispute.

- Because the requestor has met its burden to prove that the amount it is seeking is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement, the Division next reviews the information presented by the respondent to support whether the amount it has paid is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement for the disputed services.

28 Texas Administrative Code §133.307(d)(2)(E)(v), effective May 31, 2012, 37 Texas Register 3833, requires the respondent to provide:

documentation that discusses, demonstrates, and justifies that the amount the respondent paid is a fair and reasonable reimbursement in accordance with Labor Code §413.011 and §134.1 or §134.503 of this title if the dispute involves health care for which the division has not established a MAR or reimbursement rate, as applicable.

Review of the submitted documentation finds:

- The respondent did not explain how it calculated the amount paid for the services in dispute.
- As stated above, the Division has not established a fee schedule or fee guideline applicable to air ambulance transportation services; reimbursement shall therefore be made in accordance with a fair and reasonable reimbursement amount as specified in 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1(f).
- Per 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1(g), “The insurance carrier shall consistently apply fair and reasonable reimbursement amounts and maintain, in reproducible format, documentation of the insurance carrier's methodology(ies) establishing fair and reasonable reimbursement amounts.” The respondent did not explain or submit documentation to support the insurance carrier's methodology(ies) establishing fair and reasonable reimbursement amounts for the disputed services in accordance with the requirements of §134.1(g).
- The respondent did not support that the amount paid satisfies the requirements of §134.1(f).
- The respondent did not support that the amount paid represents a fair and reasonable reimbursement for the services in dispute.

The respondent's position is not supported. Thorough review of the submitted documentation finds that the respondent has not demonstrated or justified that the amount paid is a fair and reasonable rate of reimbursement for the services in dispute. The Division concludes that the respondent has not met the requirements of 28 Texas Administrative Code §133.307(d)(2)(E)(v).

- The Division finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the documentation submitted in support of the reimbursement amount proposed by the requestor is the best evidence of an amount that will achieve a fair and reasonable reimbursement for the services in this dispute. Reimbursement is calculated as follows: review of the submitted medical bill finds that the total charge for the disputed services is $28,445.68. The Division finds this amount to be a fair and reasonable reimbursement for the services in this dispute. The amount previously paid by the insurance carrier is $8,974.03. Accordingly, the additional payment amount recommended is $19,471.65.

Conclusion

In resolving disputes regarding the amount of payment due for health care determined to be medically necessary and appropriate for treatment of a compensable injury, the role of the Division is to adjudicate the payment, given the relevant statutory provisions and Division rules. The Division would like to emphasize that the outcome of this medical fee dispute relied upon the evidence presented by the requestor and the respondent. Even though all the evidence was not discussed, it was considered.

The applicable rule for determining reimbursement of the disputed air ambulance services is 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.1 regarding a fair and reasonable reimbursement. The evidence presented by the requestor was found to be persuasive. In turn, the evidence presented by the respondent was not persuasive. Consequently, the Division concludes that the requestor has established by a preponderance of the evidence that additional reimbursement is due. As a result, the amount ordered is $19,471.65.

ORDER

Based upon the documentation submitted by the parties and in accordance with the provisions of Texas Labor Code Sections 413.031 and 413.019 (if applicable), the Division has determined that the requestor is entitled to additional reimbursement for the services involved in this dispute. The Division hereby ORDERS the respondent to remit to the requestor the amount of $19,471.65 plus applicable accrued interest per 28 Texas Administrative Code §134.130, due within 30 days of receipt of this Order.
