An independent review of the above-referenced case has been completed by a medical physician [board certified] in neurological surgery. The appropriateness of setting and medical necessity of proposed or rendered services is determined by the application of medical screening criteria published by ____, or by the application of medical screening criteria and protocols formally established by practicing physicians. All available clinical information, the medical necessity guidelines and the special circumstances of said case was considered in making the determination.

The independent review determination and reasons for the determination, including the clinical basis for the determination, is as follows:

See Attached Physician Determination

___ hereby certifies that the reviewing physician is on Texas Workers' Compensation Commission Approved Doctor List (ADL). Additionally, said physician has certified that no known conflicts of interest exist between him and any of the treating physicians or providers or any of the physicians or providers who reviewed the case for determination prior to referral to ___.

CLINICAL HISTORY

___ sustained an injury at work in ____. He was working on a lift at ___ and the lift apparently gave way causing ___ to fall with the lift several feet. He was jarred during landing and developed severe lower back pain. An MRI was ordered which was interpreted as an essentially normal study with only minor desiccation of the L5-S1 disc. The patient has undergone extensive interventional procedures that include: regional nerve blocks, epidural steroid injections, and DRX 900 treatments. The patient's pain has not significantly improved.

REQUESTED SERVICE (S)

Medical necessity of the proposed lumbar discogram

DECISION

Deny requested services.

RATIONALE/BASIS FOR DECISION

Latest MRI is over one year old, and that MRI was reported as essentially normal. No recent formal EMG.
