IRO #: 5284

___ has been certified by the Texas Department of Insurance as an Independent Review Organization. The Texas Worker's Compensation Commission has assigned this case to ___ for independent review in accordance with TWCC Rule 133.308 which allows for medical dispute resolution by an IRO.

___ has performed an independent review of the proposed care to determine if the adverse determination was appropriate. In performing this review, all relevant medical records and documentation utilized to make the adverse determination, along with any documentation and written information submitted, was reviewed.

This case was reviewed by a licensed Medical Doctor who is board certified in Pain Management. The ___ health care professional has signed a certification statement stating that no known conflicts of interest exist between the reviewer and any of the treating doctors or providers or any of the doctors or providers who reviewed the case for a determination prior to the referral to ___ for independent review. In addition, the reviewer has certified that the review was performed without bias for or against any party to the dispute.

CLINICAL HISTORY

___ was injured on the job on ___ when he was "chaining down a job" when it shifted. He tried to brace himself and injured his back. An MRI demonstrated facet hypertrophy and a broad-based bulging disc which has caused foraminal stenosis. According to ___'s notes, the patient no longer has pain traveling through the legs, but he does still experience low back pain. He has tried multiple modalities of therapy including physical therapy, epidural steroid injections, which did help him, and nonsteroidal analgesics.

REQUESTED SERVICE

The disputed item is the prospective medical necessity of an RS41 sequential 4 channel combination interferential and muscle stimulator.

DECISION

The reviewer agrees with the previous adverse determination.

BASIS FOR THE DECISION

The reviewer states that there is no evidence in the literature that prolonged use in home of electrical stimulation is beneficial. The patient has been receiving electrical stimulation in the physical therapy setting, which yields an entirely different wavelength and penetration of electrical stimulation than an in home electrical stimulator, and is still having significant pain. The article quoted by ___ in the Journal of Pain does not provide any hard facts stating that this device is helpful. Therefore, I would not authorize the use of this sequential muscle stimulator.

___ has performed an independent review solely to determine the medical necessity of the health services that are the subject of the review. ___ has made no determinations regarding benefits available under the injured employee's policy.

As an officer of ___, I certify that there is no known conflict between the reviewer, ___ and/or any officer/employee of the IRO with any person or entity that is a party to the dispute.

Sincerely,
