Consent Order
TDI Enforcement File Nos. 25652 and 27381

General remarks and official action taken:

This is a consent order with Home State County Mutual Insurance Company (Home State) and AmWins Specialty Auto, Inc. (AmWins). Home State and AmWins improperly took betterment deductions in first party personal automobile claims. Home State and AmWins have agreed to pay restitution to the affected policyholders and a $20,000 administrative penalty.

Waiver

Home State and AmWins acknowledge that the Texas Insurance Code and other applicable law provide certain rights. Home State and AmWins waive all of these rights, and any other applicable procedural rights, in consideration of the entry of this consent order.
Findings of Fact

1. Home State is a domestic county mutual insurance company that holds a certificate of authority to transact business in Texas.

2. AmWins, firm ID number 15076, holds both a managing general agency (MGA) license and a general lines agency license with a property and casualty qualification.

3. Home State has entered into an MGA contract with AmWins authorizing it to act as Home State's MGA on its behalf.

4. Home State is ultimately responsible for the oversight of AmWins' practices and conduct on its behalf.

Betterment Deductions Taken in First Party Claims

5. In June 2020, TDI received a complaint showing that when AmWins settled a first party physical damage claim with a Home State policyholder, it deducted from the claim payment amounts for the "betterment" of the covered vehicle repaired to pre-loss condition.

6. Home State's approved policy form does not contemplate deducting from first party claims payments any amounts for betterment of the covered vehicle when it is repaired to pre-loss condition.

7. Between April 2017 and October 2020, AmWins represents it took betterment deductions in 31 first party claims, totaling $8,352.82.

8. AmWins represents that the deductions resulted from a misinterpretation of the language in an endorsement. Specifically, AmWins erroneously adjusted the claim using an incorrect limit of liability under Part D – Coverage for Damage to Your Auto.

9. AmWins informed TDI that it voluntarily ceased taking betterment deductions in first party claims in October 2020. Further, AmWins represents that it has notified its staff to cease taking betterment deductions and has distributed amended guidelines.
10. AmWins also notified TDI that it has taken action to compensate all policyholders affected by the betterment deductions. Specifically, AmWins identified all of its first party automobile insurance policy claims payments in Texas from April 2017 through October 23, 2020, (the “Review Period”), from which payments it deducted any amount for “betterment” of the covered vehicle. Any such amount deducted as betterment from a first party claim settlement within the Review Period constituted an “Underpayment.” In December 2020, AmWins made restitution payments, in the form of a company check or account credit, to each such policyholder or their beneficiary identified within the Review Period as having an Underpayment (the “Qualifying Policyholders”). The restitution payments included the dollar amount of Underpayment, plus simple interest in the amount of five percent per annum.

Conclusions of Law

1. The commissioner has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to TEX. INS. CODE §§ 82.051-82.055, 84.021-84.051, 801.052-801.053, 912.002, 912.101-912.152, 4001.002, 4005.101, 4005.102, 4051.051, and 4053.051.

3. Home State and AmWins have knowingly and voluntarily waived all procedural rights to which it may have been entitled regarding the entry of this order, including, but not limited to, issuance and service of notice of intention to institute disciplinary action, notice of hearing, a public hearing, a proposal for decision, rehearing by the commissioner, and judicial review.

4. Home State and AmWins, violated TEX. INS. CODE §§ 1952.301(a)(1) and 542.003(b)(3)-(b)(4) by taking betterment deductions when settling first party personal automobile claims.

5. Pursuant to TEX. INS. CODE § 82.053, the commissioner is authorized to direct Home State and AmWins to make complete restitution to each policyholder harmed by the violations.

It is ordered that Home State and AmWins pay the restitution as outlined in Finding of Fact No. 10, and comply with the following:

PROP. CODE §§ 72.001 et. seq., 73.001 et. seq., and 74.001 et. seq.

c. Home State and AmWins must send all submissions required under the terms of this order by email to: Enforcementreports@tdi.texas.gov
It is further ordered that Home State County Mutual Insurance Company and AmWins Specialty Auto, Inc. pay jointly and severally, an administrative penalty of $20,000 within 30 days from the date of this order.
