

How Much Does Insurance Cost?

Each insurance company has its own price. When you get ready to buy insurance, you should shop around. You can save a lot of money by shopping.

Review the homeowners insurance price comparisons for your area of the state, then answer the following questions:

- Which company has the lowest price?
- What is the difference between the lowest price and the highest one?
- Which companies have the best financial rating?
- Which one has the lowest complaint index?
- What is a complaint index and why is it important?

Are you ready to save more money? Now look at the price comparisons for auto insurance and answer the same questions:

Show the price comparisons to your parents and talk about what you learned. Can they save money by shopping around?