

Dr. Barbara Sunderland Manousso

Dr. Barbara Sunderland Manousso, Ph.D., M.P.H., CEO of Manousso Mediation and Arbitration, LLC, since 1993, a Texas Distinguished Credentialed Mediator and Fellow of the World Mediation Organization, has been an conflict solution author, worldwide lecturer, and mediation and arbitration practitioner and trainer worldwide, as well as professor of Global Conflict Management at the University of St. Thomas, training foreign service officers. She was awarded the 2019 Susan Adams Award by the Texas Association of Mediators, a Lifetime Achievement Award by the Association for Conflict Resolution Houston Chapter, the Houston Business Journal's Woman Who Means Business, One of Houston's Most Influential Women, and a Professional Business Mentor recognition, a humanitarian award from the government of Suez, Egypt.

Since 1993, she has been. Her work in the field of alternative dispute resolution has been in training mediators worldwide, as well as practicing as a mediator, arbitrator, ombudsman, facilitator, negotiator, conflict resolution coach, and author. She is also a Fellow of the World Mediation Organization. Dr. Manousso has recently lectured in Shanghai, China; Bangkok, Thailand; Goa, India; Halifax, Canada; Ireland; and New Zealand. Students also come from around the world to take her trainings in Houston.